

CHATEAU D'HAURETS

This building, once a modest farm, was converted into a chartreuse in the 18th Century when it was acquired by a Swede notable. In 1983, this château is bought by our grandparents, Henri and Simone, and becomes their home. It's the place where our family and friends gather together for all occasions. The château breathes joy and good living, just like the wines that are produced here.

History

16th century: One of our distant ancestors settled there and built a small farm near the communal windmill.

17th century: The estate passes from owner to owner until the consul of Sweden in Bordeaux buys it and makes extensions works: he raises the ceiling and builds the two towers. The small farm becomes a beautiful Château that will serve him as a hunting lodge.

Early 20th century: Château d'Haurets is the biggest winery in the area. The owners, very proud of the quality of his wines, decide to work with their neighboring winemakers and to establish common rules in order to promote the local wine production. Together, they have been able to create one of the first AOC in France.

1983: Our family acquires and restores the property. Henri and Simone Ducourt decide to settle there for their retirement. The park that surrounds the Château becomes Henri's new passion. He creates various flowerbeds and grows all kinds of flowers, (flowering) shrubs, plant species and a great collection of rare roses. Today, the park includes 800 different species of plants for the pleasure of walkers.
